

Day 2 - Praise The WOW factor

THY KINGDOM COME

Strange things are happening along the river bank; the sheep and their lambs are enjoying the sunshine; all is peace and quiet. Suddenly a mature lamb jumps towards the sky, four sprung hooves leave the ground together, return and leave as he jumps, jumps, jumps. He pauses before repeating his joyous task.

Exhilaration! Jumping for joy!

Take time to picture those scenes
and then write down the wow factors in your life,
the things that make you jump for joy – time and again.

Thank you God for the wow factors in my life,
the times that I bump into you each day.

Think of each of your five friends
and pray for each one that through the love of God
they will come to know the wow factors in their lives.

Strange things are happening on a shingle beach.
A young boy stands on the stony bank faced by the vastness of the sea and sky, the crashing waves.
Suddenly he raises his arms aloft and jumps towards
the sky, two sprung feet leave the ground together,
return and leave as he jumps, jumps, jumps.
He pauses before repeating his joyous task.

May you always notice
the dazzling beautiful white flowers
growing up between the cracks
And may your road
be full of little resurrections.
